

Return to website <http://www.soulsongsatsangoftheheart.net/articlesandvideos.html>

~Singing your song~

The SOUL or Song of Universal Love is our song, it is your song. Elton John created a beautiful song called Your Song and its lyrics are a flow of this SOUL, this Song of Universal Love. The Troubadour himself has given such songs as I See Your Beauty, Her Beauty, Within You, among others that remind us of the song of who we really are. The Princess, she too shares this same song within songs given such as Sheekna Ayjana <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KWtwmNWL7eo> , Who You Are, Their Highest Truth <https://soundcloud.com/nenariprincess/theirhighesttruth> among others. The Song of Universal Love that the Troubadour and Princess sing together as One is within the songs I Am We Are, There's a World, and Where There is Love. Singing connects the mind with the heart as one and the heart with the soul and the soul with Source and reminds you of the connection that already is.

The infinite depth of this our Soul song can be found within our group we have created called Sacred Path, Sacred Union. Its description in its totality is as follows~

The Sacred Path of Sacred Union is about the experience and expression of the ISness of unconditional love and the balance of the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine as One. As we are all experiences and expressions of the One. In truth there is only One of us here. One within infinite expressions of that One which are human and other infinite forms. We are remembering and BEing more and more of who we are which is love and balance. To love and be loved again and again is why we are here. This is a sacred safe space for all to feel free to share anything that you feel called to ~ To share sacred resonance of our creations individually and together. Where we can intimately share from the heart, to know that in each moment we are held in unconditional love free from judgment, simply accepting you as you are. Together we are co~creating a sacred resonance of love, healing, light, and beauty in thanksgiving of knowing who you really are which is the God/Goddess of love.

Have you been living a life in which you just seem to be existing rather than being fully alive? Are you tired of being angry, hurt, in pain, things not working out in your life, accumulating things in your life and feeling empty inside? Are you ready to step more fully into the meaning and purpose of why you are here?

The biggest reason why we individually and collectively feel so empty within (which then creates chaos of wars and hurting one another in the world) is because we have forgotten who we are, we have forgotten our Soul Song. Everyday we are bombarded with mass media (and now social/alternative media too) of ways in which we are free from telling one another the truth of who we are. We are telling illusion stories about how bad the world is or saying hurtful and harmful things about one another and to one another.

When we are truly singing our Soul Song, we are vibrant, alive, able to see our emotions as energy~in~motion of reminders to shift back into our Soul through heart co~hearance (hearing our heart, our Soul). Using our heart as the tuning fork (528 Hz the vibration of Love) to feel and know whether we are singing our Soul Song. When we are truly singing our Soul Song abundance is flowing within our lives in all ways, we are living our purpose within how may I serve for the benefit of all rather than what's in it for me. When we are truly living and BEing in the Song of our Soul, we seek to harm none including ourselves.

When we are singing our Soul Song, we are being love, loving, blessing ourselves and others, extending one another's highest potentials, bringing life to one another, maximising our Divine flow, honouring, supporting, nurturing ourselves and others to bring out the fullness of Divine energy.

Ram Dass said that his guru Maharaji would tell him repeatedly, "Love everyone and tell the truth." What he meant was personally and in oneness consciousness love everyone and be in the Satsang of the heart. For Satsang means to sit in the truth. Not your truth, THE Truth. The Truth of Source/Love/God/The Master Artist whatever you choose to call this Source energy that is the Creator of All That Is. To tell the truth of who you are, the Soul of who you are, the Song of your Soul. To tell the truth of who they are, of their soul, the Song of their Soul. Rather than what we feel is the truth which is full of judgments, ego, labels, hurt, pain, anger, or who we think another is or should be and so on.....Rather to tell the truth of the Master Artist of who they are at the core of their soul. Who are they, who are YOU at the core of your soul? What is their Soul Song? What is your Soul Song? For once we know our own Soul Song within us and we are singing it, we then give permission to others to sing their Soul Song as well and we then remind them of why they are here of their Soul Song. This is what Maharaji means when he says Love everyone and tell the truth. The REAL truth of who we are. Our role is to come into and know our Soul Song within us and to sing it within being in the Satsang of the Heart. And then, our role within humanity is to tell the truth of who another soul really is, to sing their Soul Song within being in the Satsang of their heart. To our Soul Song to one another even in moments when another is behaving in what appears to be less than this. Our role is not to bring people out of delusion by barraging them with what they did wrong or how bad they are, our role is to sing songs of Love to them to remind them of who they really are. Sing my Soul Song to me.

We be this, we do this by both being in the present moment and also the simple philosophy that is the purpose statement of Soul Song~

~When a woman of the Ubuntu African tribe knows she is pregnant, she goes to the jungle with other women, and together the women pray and meditate until they receive "The song" of the child. Their Soul Song. When a child is born, the community gets together and they sing the child's song. When the child begins his or her education, people get together and they sing his/her song. When they become an adult, they get together again and sing it. When it comes to your wedding, the person hears his/her song. Finally, when their soul is going from this world, family and friends approach and, like at his/her birth, sing their song to accompany them in the "journey" back home to Source.

In the Babemba and Ubuntu tribes, there is another occasion when men sing the Soul Song as they have a social structure with an elementary criminal code. Their close community living makes harshness unnecessary. Once there was a visitor who was deeply impressed by the tribe's handling of antisocial, delinquent behaviours, which are exceedingly infrequent. When a person acts irresponsibly, unjustly, commits a crime or aberrant social act, he/she is placed in the centre of the village, alone, unfettered and the people of the community form a circle around him/her. All work ceases. All gather around the accused individual and they sing "your song.", your Soul Song. In addition, each person of every age, begins to talk out loud to the accused. One at a time, each person tells all the good things the one in the centre ever did in his/her lifetime. Every incident, every experience that can be recalled with any detail and accuracy, is recounted. All positive attributes, good deeds, strengths, and kindnesses are recited carefully and at length. No one is permitted to fabricate, exaggerate or be facetious about accomplishments or positive aspects of the accused person. The tribal ceremony often lasts several days, not ceasing until everyone is drained of every positive comment that can be mustered. At the end, the tribal circle is broken, a joyous celebration takes place, and the person is symbolically and literally welcomed back into the tribe. The tribe recognizes that the correction for antisocial behavior is not punishment, but is the love and memory of his/her true identity. When we recognize our own song, we have no desire or need to harm or hurt anyone. Necessity for such ceremonies is rare!

Your friends and those who love you know "your song". And sing it to you when you forget it. Those who love you can not be fooled by mistakes you have committed, or dark images you hold about yourself and show to others. They remember your beauty as you feel ugly, your total when you are broke, your innocence when you feel guilty and your purpose when you're confused.~

~As given in Spirit through the hands of Nenari, Princess of the Sea